About the Conference

The International Conference on Resilience and Rights: Women's Pathways to Empowerment in Comparative Perspective offers a global platform for scholars, policymakers, and activists to explore women's empowerment across cultural and legal contexts. It examines challenges in marriage, family, and community life, highlighting women's resilience in facing structural inequalities and restrictive norms. With insights from law, social sciences, humanities, and gender studies, and comparative perspectives from India, Europe, and beyond, the conference fosters cross-cultural dialogue and proposes actionable frameworks for gender justice, inclusion, and equality.
